LOVING EVERYONE

John 3:16 is one of the most well-known verses in the Bible: "For God so loved the world that He gave His one and only Son, that whoever believes in Him shall not perish but have eternal life." This powerful verse reminds us that God's love is not limited to a certain race, nation, social status, or background. His love reaches the entire world. As followers of Christ, we are called to reflect that same kind of love. Jesus did not come only for people who looked like us, thought like us, or agreed with us. He came for sinners, the broken, the forgotten, and the outcast. If God loved the whole world enough to give His Son, then we must love others enough to show them His grace, compassion, and truth. Loving everyone does not mean approving of every choice people make, but it does mean treating every person with dignity because they are made in the image of God. Our words, attitudes, and actions should point people to Christ rather than push them away. In a world filled with division and hatred, the church has the opportunity to demonstrate the love of God to all people. When we love as Christ loved, we become living testimonies of the gospel. May John 3:16 remind us daily that we have received an incredible love—and we are called to share that love with everyone.
